

A Level Programme 2019

Frequently Asked Questions

1. What is an A Level Programme?

The A Level programme is a two-year programme that culminates in the Advanced Level examinations conducted by Cambridge Assessment International Education (CAIE). As part of the programme, the Advanced Subsidiary (AS) examinations are typically taken at the end of the first year of study, and carry half the credit of the full A Level Examinations. Subsequently, the A2 examinations at the end of the second year account for the remaining credits.

Hence, for each subject of study, students will take the

- AS Level exams at the end of the first year of study; and
- A2 Level exams at the end of the second year of study.

The final A Level grade will be a summative outcome of the AS and A2 exams. As an exception, the General Paper is an AS Level examination.

Upon completion of the A Level programme, students will insha'allah be eligible for universities and colleges - both locally and internationally.

(Star Award – An extra 2% for every CAIE A* (A-Star) Grade will be added to the applicable Basic Scholarship)

- Scholarship is applicable on the monthly tuition fee only.
- All scholarships will be reviewed at the end of the first year on the basis of academic and social performance.
- Non-academic scholarships are available on exceptional basis, based on sports and other co-curricular and social achievement.

5. What are the advantages of applying early?

Early applicants may gain an advantage in the following ways:

- The Early Admission Offer will secure you a place in the A Level Programme, thus giving you a peace of mind.
- An early application will make you eligible for higher tiers of scholarship.
- The earlier you apply, the better the chances of you being able to study subjects of your choice.

6. What is the admission process for the A Level Programme at Generation's?

- The application forms may be collected in person from the School's Front Office. Alternatively, they are available from the school website (www.generations.edu.pk).
- Timely submission shall enable the School to not only offer early admission but also award you the highest level of scholarship that you may be eligible for.
- Upon submission of the forms, a discussion will be held with the applicant, parents and members of the faculty.

7. What factors will be considered for admissions and scholarships?

There will be a wide variety of factors considered - both academic and non-academic in nature - that shall directly affect the school's decision to offer admission and scholarships. The school shall be looking for students having well-rounded personalities in all aspects, not just with good grades, but also with a competent repertoire of skills and interests, along with a strong sense of values and character. In particular, the school shall strongly consider the following:

- social conduct;
- academic records of past and present, which shall necessarily include:
- school transcripts,
- mock exam results, and
- final O Level grades;
- Cross-curricular activities and interests, such as sports and community service.
- Principal's Recommendation Form.

The discussion with the faculty will inform the school further of the aforementioned aspects.

8. What is an 'early admission offer'?

Upon fulfilling the criteria mentioned above, strong applicants may be offered 'early admission' which may be conditional or unconditional. Applicants who accept this offer can then be certain about their entry to the Generation's A Level Programme, as long as they meet the condition set for the final O Level grades.

To accept the early admission offer and subsequently guarantee a place in the A Level Programme, applicants will be required to deposit an initial amount of Rs. 25,000/-, which will eventually be adjusted against the fee payable for the first quarter.

In case the applicant's final O Level grades do not meet the condition agreed upon earlier – and the school is therefore unable to offer admission – the deposit will be returned to the applicant in full.

9. What kind of cross-curricular activities are planned for the A Level Programme?

To inculcate leadership skills within our student body, there are extensive succession of cross-curricular programmes in the form of clubs and societies at Generation's. Our students have been actively participating in – and winning great laurels locally and globally. We have sixteen societies for the holistic development of our students. From the platform of these students led societies, several intra and interschool events have been organized.

10. What will happen in the month of August?

Applicants will be required to submit their O Level results within 48 hours of the announcement of the results by CAIE. The final admission offers will be made on the basis of the O Level results and aforementioned criteria.

The classes shall commence from September 2019, insha'Allah.
